

SOPHOMORE DANCE IS SCHEDULED DESPITE CARNIVAL CANCELLATION

The Sophomore Dance will be held as planned tomorrow night in the Women's Gym from eight to 12 o'clock, according to Charles Dudley, sophomore class representative.

Admission price is $1.00 per couple and 75 cents stag, which is quite reasonable considering there will be live music and that it is the last "really big" dance before the end of the year and the prom.

The band is familiar to all students in the area. Led by Gary Meyer and featuring Hartnell's own Barry Robertson at the piano, this band made quite a name for itself as the Sophisticates. It has played for several benefit programs in the area as well as for the big Salinas Valley Fair Dance last year.

Larry Parker, over-all chairman for the dance, has spent the last month planning and coordinating with the capable assistance of Karen Allen, decorations chairman; Gordon Mack, publicity; and Lawson Maddox, in charge of securing a band.

"Also slated to appear is Buzz Green and his smash interpretation, 'Kansas City,'" reports Dudley.

Originally scheduled as a conclusion to the Spring Carnival, the dance was to carry out the carnival theme, but those plans have been abandoned for bigger and better ones.

This dance, and the entertainment and band provided, promises to be one of the highlights of the sophomore activities for the year, and an opportunity no one should pass off.

■ Newcomer to Hartnell, Oscar the Octopus was a little unhappy during his first day in class. He restlessly surged back and forth across his tank and even shot ink at his boss, Dr. Howard Feder. Oscar was part of a shipment of 40 to 50 assorted strange ocean animals which was shipped to Hartnell last week for study in the Marine Biology classes. Oscar and his friends had been blissfully enjoying the lush life at the bottom of the ocean off Los Angeles when they were drafted into educational service and shipped overseas to the land of the lettuce. The strange creatures (to us) have settled down to make the best of it in glass houses where Hartnell students can watch their lives.

Student-Faculty Discussion Group to Air Problem of 'Migrant Workers'

Following a seemingly successful eight-month tradition, the Student-Faculty Discussion Group will meet today at 3:00 p.m. in the main lounge of the Student Union.

Larry Heer will give a brief background to the students and faculty present on "Migrant Workers," the topic of today's discussion; then the members will be invited to "hash out" any questions, disagreements, or opinions on the floor—calmly, of course.

During the past eight months there has, as some have stated, been a lack of common ground and communication within the discussion itself; however, during the spring semester a sudden interest from various members of the student body has prompted the formation of a committee to discuss, among themselves, the problems involved with the presentation of future S.F.D.G. meetings. This, it is hoped, will do much to improve the atmosphere, organization, and interest at the Friday meetings.

In the past, the group has discussed such things as: "What Is the Answer to World Overpopulation?" and "What Is the Difference Between Teachers and Instructors?"

The next discussion topic will

MEDICAL SERIES IS TO CONCLUDE

Concluding a series of lectures on medicine in the Hartnell Presents medical series, Dr. Frederick W. Kraft, M.D., will discuss "The Human Eye—A Photographic Instrument," on Wednesday, April 26, at 8 p.m. in the college library.

President Ching stated that the series has been one of the most successful short series we have had, and it is hoped that the series might be continued on with similar subject material next year.

Usual number in attendance has been 70-100; these, however, have not been a representation of Hartnell students—the audience has been composed of adults from the community.

President Ching, Dr. Fosset, and Dr. T. D. Engelhorn organized the lecture series on campus in conjunction with the Monterey County Medical Society.

Best attended lecture was "Cancer, Including New Developments," by Dr. F. Hilton Smith on March 15.

Forty Scholarships Being Given To Hartnell's Qualified Students

Every year at this time students begin to think about scholarships, and that they might obtain one. Actually it isn't too hard. All a student needs is an above-average grade and a few recommendations. If anyone feels that he or she might qualify for any of the following scholarships, it would be most advantageous to contact Miss Handley immediately and fill out the application forms. Remember, scholarships are not awarded solely on the grade point average; many other factors enter also, such as need, leadership and activities.

The following is a list of the scholarships available at Hartnell College:

1. Native Daughters of the Golden West:

Mission Bell-Soledad in the amount of $316.

Mills College in the amount of $300.

University of California in the amount of $100.

Any school in the amount of $100 (This scholarship is awarded to a woman graduate of Hartnell).

2. California State Nurse's Association, District 46:

Awarded to a nursing student with a B average.

3. California Alliance of Jewish Women:

Awarded for emergency financial assistance to Jewish college students.

4. Phyllis Rosendale Thorup:

Eight $100 scholarships will be available to second year Hartnell students.

5. Alpha Gamma Sigma:

Several scholarship available to members of AGS for junior and senior years at four-year colleges.

6. Salinas Lions Club:

$100 awarded to a Hartnell sophomore who was a graduate of Salinas High School.

7. Associated Students of Hartnell College presents the Marvin Barlogio Memorial Scholarship:

$100 awarded to a second-year Hartnell student who has been outstanding in student activities.

8. Associated Students of Hartnell College presents the John Fitzwater Memorial Scholarship:

$100 awarded to a second-year Hartnell student who has been outstanding in student activities.

9. Claud W. and Alpheritta B. Coluburn Scholarship:

$150 awarded to a student who has completed one semester at Hartnell, who has resided in S.U.H.S. District six months and will be going to Hartnell.

10. Oregon, Nevada, California Fast Freight, Inc., Southern California Freight Lines:

$500 awarded to a student within the Hartnell College District.

11. Salinas Lions Club:

$100 to a sophomore student at Hartnell who is a graduate of one of the Salinas high schools.

12. California Teachers Association—Alisal Branch:

$150 for a student within Salinas High School district who is transferring in business, industry, or the professions.

13. Standard Oil Company of California:

Two $300 scholarships—one to 4-H student and one to FFA student.

14. Delta Kappa Gamma, Alpha Lambda Chapter:

$500 awarded to a woman student from Hartnell or M.P.C. for education major.

15. Hartnell College C.T.A. Charter No. 540:

$100 awarded to Hartnell graduate continuing as education major.

Belles of St. Trinian's Is Presented to ASB

Have you ever "horsed around" in a dorm—with a race horse that is? Well, this is but a common event at St. Trinian's Girl's School in the movie, "The Belles of St. Trinian's," to be presented in the main lounge of the Student Union at 7:30 Wednesday night.

The popular English comedy actor Alastair Sim, romps through dual roles in this farce about a school of wild and outrageous little girls—as could only exist in the imagination of satirists Ronald Searle, whose drawings inspired this film. Mirth roars freely as Sim plays the headmistress of St. Trinian's and her no-good brother who encourages the girls' interest in horse racing. You'll never forget St. Trinian's.

U.S. Peace Corps Given Explanation

Many questions have arisen in the past few weeks concerning President Kennedy's suggested peace corps—a plan that would develop new areas of the world via college graduates.

In answer to these questions, the White House has issued a summary of the proposed peace corps by Sargent Shriver, director of the program.

The following is a condensation of the proposed plan:

By working in newly developed areas of the world, young college graduates would also promote "international cooperation and good will toward this country." The corps may later be placed under the Department of State.

Major programs to be included in the peace corps that would

Felix Greene Speaks On 'Bamboo Curtain'

What is actually going on behind the Bamboo Curtain? Is China really the way Americans believe it is? Felix Greene, noted news commentator and reporter, will discuss these and other vital questions regarding the Red China of today in the first of three "Hartnell Presents" lectures, tonight at 8 o'clock in the Hartnell Library.

Following the theme of "Focal Points of International Tension," Mr. Greene will present a penetrating and challenging analysis of China and an evaluation of China's strained relations with her neighbors. He also offers a 20-minute selection of color slides taken on his tour of communes, hospitals, schools, colleges, prisons, and courts of law.

Mr. Greene gave American lecture audiences their first authentic glimpse into China under Communist rule in 1957. Three years later he returned to the Chinese mainland for more than four months, traveling 10,000 miles around that vast land by train, bus, plane and riverboat. It was during this second trip that he obtained the first television interview ever filmed inside China, an interview with Prime Minister Chou En-Lai, which was shown to a worldwide audience last year.

Between his two trips to China, Mr. Greene returned to the Far East in 1959 for an extended trip of several months. Starting in Russia, he went to Afghanistan, India, Nepal, Burma, Singapore, Indonesia, Thailand, Laos, Hong Kong, and Japan. He had private conversations with Mr. Nehru, the Tibetan Dalai Lama, the foreign ministers of Afghanistan and Indonesia, the prime minister of Nepal, and many other leading personalities of Asia. This has given him what he believes to be an invaluable background to the understanding of the issues facing the Asian people today.

Felix Greene, an Englishman who has now made America his permanent home, said in a recent broadcast, "What is happening in China today is one of the great historical facts of our contemporary world and the public is appallingly—and dangerously—misinformed about it."

Spring at Hartnell -- and Elsewhere

This year April and Spring came in like a lion nipping at the heels of gentle May—and along with it came the riotous activities in Fort Lauderdale and our own coastal areas. But, such is the disease—spring fever—that plagues us and is as much a part of the world as a red barn, traditionally necessary but still a blotch on the horizon that aggravates the eye.

Now is the time for day-dreaming. What undefinable joy to be able to become a grain of sand a quarter inch from high tide at Carmel, a blade of grass in a well watered lawn, a furry black spider on the under side of a chlorophyll-filled leaf exposed to the sun.

All this is very fine for day dreaming.

On the warm days, it is considerably easier to find a parking place in the front of Hartnell than it is to find one in the parking lot at Carmel; it is quite easy to find a seat near the front of a usually crowded bus; and to go even further, there are actually empty tables in the cafeteria during "rush hour."

Attendance records are maimed as easily as a ceramic dachshund's tail; homework and other student responsibilities wither and dry in the afternoon sun.

Yet, this is probably, academically, the most important part of the year. The instructors are past the introductory material in their teachings and are preparing for the all-important truths of their courses. Mid-terms are to be prepared for, and most importantly, facts are yet to be learned that cannot be obtained from a classmate's notes.

Some of us disregard the unpleasant task of attendance and give up better grades. Some of us use up the prescribed amount of absences, and then must come to school "in sickness and in health" for the remainder of the semester. Others are completely carried away and altogether disregard classes, sacrificing a semester of their college education, of their life, for a few fleeting days of pleasure spent on the beach. Perhaps this seems a bit far fetched, but in reality, it exists.

This comes each year on March 20 in as regular a cycle as those of the Monarch butterflies and the Swallows.

Perhaps this is a device invented to test the sincerity of students, just as the Christmas vacation from which some students never return does.

We are human and susceptible to the flower-scented air that drifts in through the class windows with the sun, to the call of the far-off ocean's roar, and to the unbearable discomforts of the class room on such days. As humans, we indulge in forbidden pleasures—but please—with moderation and forethought!

Adamson Awarded Position of Sports Editor

Jerry Adamson, Panther Sentinel's only sports reporter, has spent many extra hours "above and beyond the call of duty" in order to bring a clear view of Panther sports activities this semester.

We feel since he has taken the time and made the effort that he should be rewarded and we hereby give him the honorary by-line and title of Sports Editor.

LITTLE MAN ON CAMPUS

"WELL—THAT'S ONE FLUNK ALREADY."

APPEARS HERE

On April 28, at the Friday assembly, Hartnell will present Don Madison as a featured singer.

A whole gamut of folk songs and ballads are in the repertoire Don will offer as he sings his own guitar accompaniment.

If the advance billing and photographs are any indication of the product to follow, the assembly should be full to overflowing. Mr. Madison is young, personable, and competent, and the feminine gender on campus should find it interesting to look as well as to listen.

Spring Carnival
Has Been Cancelled

The Hartnell Spring Carnival revival was called off, and not on account of rain either. Surprisingly, Homecoming festivities were a smashing success in spite of the rain. Hartnell's student body literally parted the clouds to let the parade through. The story was different on the Spring Carnival.

"What happened?" was the question put to ICC President Dave Guardino.

"The function of the charter of the I.C.C. is to serve, not force, participating clubs to promote social affairs," Dave explained. Three and a half months ago the Spring Carnival was suggested and proposed. Time passed. No interest and no action evolved. The students on campus are not babies," Guardino stated. "If they want something they must work for it, and at the final meeting the Spring Carnival was buried with a 9 to 3 vote against having it," he finished.

It would seem that a lot of fun and some headaches were missed by the dropping of the carnival, enthusiasm and work is necessary to all achievement, and as the Chinese say, "The longest road traveled began with the first step."

(Continued From Page 1) contribute to the development of critical countries and regions are: (1) teaching, (2) fighting health problems, (3) working in agricultural projects and rural development programs, (4) large scale construction and industrial projects, and (5) working in government administration.

Concerning membership of the peace corps, Shriver, in his 12-page report, said, "The resources, energy and experience of our non-governmental institutions, including colleges and universities, foundations, trade unions, businesses, civic groups and religious bodies must be tapped. This must be a cooperative venture of the whole American people."

Selection of volunteers would be a general nationwide recruitment program.

Upon selection, members of the corps would be trained in respect to their particular jobs and country assigned. Training programs, varying from six weeks to six months, would also emphasize language instruction.

There should be no general age limit or restriction as to sex. Term of office will be two to three years.

When will the peace corps be launched? "When Congress appropriates special funds," according to the early announcements. The peace corps will probably

Stop, Look, Listen and Do Not Join

By Mary Figone

This is a factual story. It happened. It happens now, today, in many hidden ways. Only change the names, the characters, and the gains to be achieved.

Once upon a time there was the "black sheep," of a wealthy, highly intelligent Jewish family. He used a speech defect to excuse his living it up, raise hell, life is short, pattern of life. He lived it up so well he went through a large fortune his father left him in nothing flat. Wine, women and song.

Then came the day to pay for some of the wild oats. Our hero finally wound up with a job in a slaughterhouse. His duty it was to herd the sheep from the pen up the chute, shut the terrified bleating animals into the funnel, open the headgate, then hit them on the head with a sledge hammer. Crunch, crunch, end of sheep.

Our man was sharp and he knew it was the devil's own job to get the sheep into that chute. Many of them deflected and jumped the side fences at the last moment. They sensed death and smelled blood and some of them froze stiff. Our wise playboy-with-a-brain thought and studied, and watched.

There was one animal that never seemed to get his head bopped off, somehow he was always in the pen.

It took time, and much patience, much practice, since sheep are hard to train; they mostly are led or follow. In the end the man taught and this one sheep learned. So now it was all easy.

The trained sheep selected, the one that never seemed to get his head knocked off, did the job.

Daily you could watch him work, if you watched closely. He pushed and butted and butted himself first in the lead, led the frightened flock, one by one, up the chute, to their death; then the man, his teacher, opened the headgate and the leader sheep jumped down, unharmed, and quietly, stealthily went through a secret slot in the pen, rejoined the flock led them again and again to their destruction.

There are unholy alliances today, using class against class, race against race, religion and state against state.

There are "leader sheep," and teachers of "leader sheep."

The thing to do is STOP, STUDY, LOOK AND LISTEN. Don't join the flock to begin with. Who knows, like the flock in the story you might never know the difference.

Miss California
Visits In Salinas

A luncheon welcoming Suzanne Marie Reamo, Miss California and first runner-up in the Miss America contest, to Salinas, was given on Wednesday, April 5, in the Tee 'n Turf.

Those invited to attend the luncheon representing Hartnell College were Sue Patton, Homecoming Queen, and Sharon Hurlhey, editor of the Sentinel. Representatives from North Salinas High included Irais Van Eynde, exchange student from Belgium, and Carol Jorgensen, Salinas High's representative was Linda Moritz, and Fran Park represented Palm High.

Also attending in her first official capacity was Kathy Garlinger, hostess for the California Rodeo.

A question and answer period followed the luncheon at which time Miss Reamo revealed that she will be starting summer school at San Diego State one day after she is crowned the new Miss California in June of this year. She is also planning to be singing with the San Diego Starlight Opera Company during the summer.

As official hostess for the state of California, Miss Reamo has had to attend all state functions and act as hostess to guests.

She stated that the most beneficial thing that being Miss California has given her is knowledge of herself and what is going on around her.

She was a student of San Diego State the year she entered the competition, and last year attended San Jose State, but at present is doing promotion for airlines, a dress line, women bowlers, and the soft drink company which awards the scholarships to the finalists in the Miss America contest.

Miss Reamo is truly deserving of her title as she proved to be one of the friendliest, most beautiful women in the United States.

HARTNELL SPIKERS SHOW WINNING FORM FOR CAMERA

Monterey Thinclads Emerge Victorious Over Hartnell, Diablo Valley in Track Meet

Monterey Peninsula College again proved its superiority over Hartnell and Diablo Valley as it soundly defeated the two teams in a triangular meet held Saturday, April 8, on the Pleasant Hill High School oval.

The spikers from Monterey took eight first places on their way to 79½ points.

Diablo Valley picked up four firsts while Hartnell captured the remaining two. Diablo Valley had a total of 43½ points and Hartnell had 26 points.

Hartnell's first places were registered in the high jumping and pole vaulting competition. Jay Hawk cleared 6 feet 1 inch for first in the high jump while Bill Allen vaulted 12 feet 10 inches which was good enough for first in the pole vault. Bill Huston of Hartnell cleared 12 feet 6 inches for second place behind Allen.

Ron Zumbro who had to miss the meet because of appendix trouble was greatly missed in the sprints. Hartnell failed to place in the 100 and 220 yard dashes. Dodson of MPC took both sprints in very good times. The time for the century was 9.8 while the 220 was 21.0. Besides the sprints the Panthers were also shut out in the shotput, high hurdles, and low hurdles.

Other placers in the meet for Hartnell were: Steven Burns, tied for third in the high jump; Adrian Avila, third in the mile and fourth in the broad jump; Bill Harrison and George Mullen, third and fourth in the discus; Mike Parks, fourth in the 440; Lawrence Steffen and Dave Guardino, second and third in the 880; Gerald Slibsager, third in the two-mile.

Coming meets for the Panthers include the Hartnell Small College Track Meet Saturday, April 22, and a four-way meet tomorrow involving Foothill, MPC, Vallejo and Hartnell College. Both meets will be held at Hartnell with starting time at 1:30 p.m.

Fielding Errors Downfall For Harts In Cabrillo Loss

The Cabrillo Seahawks handed Hartnell's Panthers their fifth straight Coast Conference defeat Tuesday, on the Panthers' home diamond. Final score was Cabrillo 10, Hartnell 1.

Sharing the pitching shore for Hartnell were Jim Smith and Charlie Noel. The Seahawks went the seven innings with Mark Amrein. Smith and Noel gave up a total of seven hits but it was the six errors committed by the Panthers that made the difference in the score. Amrein was less generous with the hits and allowed only five.

Cabrillo gathered its eggs in one basket and came up with a big fourth inning, scoring seven runs. Three more runs were added in the sixth. Hartnell's lone run came in the seventh.

Because of the cold weather and the darkness the game was called after seven innings of play. The cold wind played a tremendous part in the game for Hartnell. The Panthers committed six errors with most of them because of the wind. Cabrillo also had its troubles and came up with two errors.

Hartnell will have a chance for revenge today when the Panthers are entertained by the Seahawks in a game to be played at Cabrillo. Game time is 3 p.m.

Stanford Takes Meet

Hartnell's track team has been finding the going rough as it dropped its third meet of the season to a strong Stanford freshman team.

The frosh proved their superiority as they swept through 11 of the 13 events for first place. Hartnell's Bill Huston and Jay Hawk were the lone placers in the meet for the Panthers as they tied for top honors in the pole vaulting and high jumping competition respectively. Huston cleared 12 feet 6 inches while Hawk went over the bar at 6 feet 1 inch.

Although the Stanford team took most of the events, several of the Hartnell spikers turned in good performances. In the distance medley Jerry Slibsager ran a fast 1320 to put Hartnell back in the race after the Panthers got off to a slow start in the 440 and 880. Adrian Avila was the anchor man on the team and ran the mile in the race. Avila closed the gap some but had too much to overtake and fell a few yards short of first place.

Ron Zumbro as usual ran the century in a respectable time on a slow track. Ron was clocked in 10.3 which was good enough for second place in a six-man field.

Panthers on Short End Of Baseball Contest

Hartnell's baseball team came out on the short end of a 6-3 score Tuesday, April 4, in a practice game with the San Jose State Frosh.

The game was played on the winner's diamond and saw John Ketcham on the mound for the Panthers. Ketcham was the losing pitcher but tossed a good game, allowing the frosh only nine hits. San Jose's Joe Lang connected for one of the hits for a home run.

This game marked the end of the practice season for the Panthers. For the remainder of the season every game will be counted in the conference standings.

Diablo Valley College Downs Harts Twice In Conference Baseball

The Hartnell Panthers suffered a double loss at the hands of Diablo Valley College Saturday, April 8. The twin killing took place on the winner's home diamond.

Charlie Noel was the starting pitcher for the Panthers in the opener in which the home team scored seven runs to Hartnell's three. Coach Jess Regli's nine led 3-0 at the end of three and a half innings but then Diablo Valley started hitting and pushed across two runs in the bottom of the fourth, three in the fifth, and two more in the sixth. The winners connected for 12 safeties compared to only five by the Panthers. A total of nine errors were committed in the game with Hartnell on the short end with four.

Second game went only seven innings and again Diablo Valley emerged victorious. Score of the second contest was 9-2. Jim Smith was on the mound for Hartnell and gave up seven hits to the winners. The Panthers were held to five hits and could score only twice.
